DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claim 28 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The specification is silent regarding "said component is an unsoldered component".

As can be seen in figure 1, applicant clearly shows in figure 1 that component (1) mounted to a substrate (7) by solder (3). What does applicant mean by "unsoldered component?"

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2827

4. Claims 1-7, and 27-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Prior Art (hereafter PA, admitted by applicant) in view of Higgins, III (U. S. Patent 5,639,989).

PA discloses a surface mountable radiation emitting and/or radiation sensitive electro optical component (1) as shown in figure 2, particularly a surface-mountable radiation-emitting and/or radiation-sensitive electro-optical component (LED-1), with a plastic housing (14) that includes at least one metallic soldering area (4).

PA does not disclose an anti-solder coating on a surface of the housing.

Higgins does show an anti-solder coating essentially consists of polysiloxane (24, column 6, lines 18-32) coated on a part of die (13) and not covered conductive pad of the die disclosed in figure 1.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have an anti-solder coating essentially consists of polysiloxane as taught by Higgins to modify the electronic component of PA in order to be shielded, prevent radiation/emission or coupling of EMI from component mounted on a printed circuit board.

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 04/22/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues:

Higgins does not suggest or indicate "layer 24" made of polysiloxane and provide an anti-solder coating (a coating surface not be formed by solder).

Examiner disagrees.

Applicant recites in claim 1, lines 4-5 that “the surface of the plastic housing, except for the metallic soldering area, is at least partially of a surface of the housing covered by an anti-solder coating” Higgins clearly shows in figures 1 and 3 a conformal insulating coating layer (24, column 6, lines 20-21) made of polysiloxane (and the like, column 6, line 32), the polysiloxane coating layer (24) capable of being used as a coating material coated on a surface of a die (12) and not covering the soldering area of the die.

Conclusion

2. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

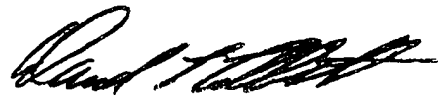

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
